

Continuous Disclosure Policy

1. Group's Disclosure Obligations

Elixinol Wellness Limited (Group) has adopted this Continuous Disclosure Policy (Policy) to ensure that the Group complies with its disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) and the Listing Rules of the Australian Securities Exchange, ASX Limited (ASX).

The main ASX disclosure requirement is set out in ASX Listing Rule 3.1, which requires the Group to immediately notify the ASX of information concerning the Group of which it is or becomes aware and which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of securities of the Group were that information to be generally available. The Group is also required by section 674 of the Corporations Act to comply with this obligation. In this context, ASX has confirmed that “immediately” means “prompt and without delay”.

Materially price sensitive information must be immediately notified to the ASX unless it falls within the scope of the confidentiality exemption contained in Listing Rule 3.1. A full copy of Listing Rule 3.1 is attached as Annexure 1.

2. Company Secretary

The ASX Listing Rules require the Group to appoint a person to be responsible for communications with the ASX in relation to listing rule matters, and the appointed person is the Company Secretary.

The Company Secretary plays an important role in relation to this Policy. The Company Secretary will be the person principally responsible for operating, overseeing and maintaining the Policy. The Company Secretary is the liaison between the Group's employees and officers, its Board of Directors, Responsible Managers and the ASX. The Company Secretary is also responsible for co-ordinating education within the Group about its disclosure obligations.

The Company Secretary will work with the Group Chief Executive Officer (Group CEO) and the members from time to time of any Continuous Disclosure Committee to determine whether any reported information needs to be disclosed in accordance with the Policy.

3. Compliance Approach

The Group takes its continuous disclosure obligations seriously.

The Policy emphasises a pro-active approach to continuous disclosure. Employees and officers are encouraged to approach the Company Secretary if they have any queries about what information should be disclosed to the ASX. The objective is to create a culture of openness which is conducive to the fulfilment of the Group's obligation of disclosure.

The information provided to the ASX is to be accurate, balanced and expressed in a clear and objective manner that allows investors to assess the impact of the information when making investment decisions.

4. Information to be reported and reporting Information to the Company Secretary

The type of matters which should be reported to the Company Secretary are set out in the Continuous Disclosure Policy Checklist (attached as Annexure 2). As soon as any employee or officer becomes aware of any sufficiently material information, they should promptly inform the Group CEO and the Company Secretary.

There may be matters outside the checklist which may be sufficiently material to require reporting to the Company Secretary and if in any doubt, this should be promptly discussed with the Company Secretary.

5. Materiality Guidelines

In determining whether information is material and, therefore, should be reported, the Board has adopted the Materiality Guidelines (attached as Annexure 3).

Whether a matter is material needs to be considered from both a quantitative viewpoint (e.g. a claim for more than a specified amount) and a qualitative viewpoint (e.g. if it could adversely affect the reputation of the Group). Matters which may be material having regard to the Materiality Guidelines should be immediately reported to the Company Secretary.

If there is any doubt as to whether a matter is material, then the matter should nevertheless immediately be notified to the Company Secretary for further consideration.

6. Confidentiality Guidelines

Under ASX Listing Rule 3.1, certain material information does not need to be disclosed if it falls within the scope of the confidentiality exemption in that Listing Rule. So once it has been determined that a matter is material, the Company Secretary will, possibly in conjunction with the Directors and/or external advisors, consider whether it could be considered confidential having regard to the Confidentiality Guidelines (attached as Annexure 4).

It is imperative that all material information be immediately disclosed to the Company Secretary, who will distribute this material to all relevant persons. To assist in making these decisions, details as to why the information may be confidential should also be provided.

If it is considered that information could be confidential, then all necessary steps should be taken to ensure that the information remains confidential. For instance, that information should not be disclosed to other parties except on the basis of a confidentiality undertaking.

7. Approval for disclosure to ASX

If the Company Secretary believes information must be disclosed, the Company Secretary must seek approval for disclosure of the information to the ASX as follows:

- (a) in the first instance, approval from the Board;
- (b) if it is not practicable to seek approval from the Board (recognising the requirement to immediately disclose market sensitive information), the Company Secretary must seek approval from:
 - (i) the Chair of the Board; or
 - (ii) in his or her absence – the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee;and
- (c) if, in exceptional circumstances, the Board and the Chair (and the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee) are not available, the Company Secretary should convene a meeting with the Continuous Disclosure Committee comprising of the Company Secretary, the Group CEO, the Chief Financial Officer and any one member of the Board whom after consideration have authority to approve disclosure of the information to the ASX; and
- (d) Subsequent to release to the ASX all material market announcements are promptly provided to the Board by the Company Secretary.

8. Dealing with analysts

The Group must ensure that it does not give analysts any material price sensitive non-public information at any time, for example, during analysts' briefings, answering analysts' questions or reviewing draft analyst research reports. It is permissible to clarify or correct any factual matters or errors of interpretation that analysts make concerning already publicly available information, but only to the extent that the clarification or correction does not itself amount to giving the material non publicly available information (such as correcting market expectations about profit forecasts).

Any briefing materials should be provided to the Company Secretary, prior to use, to confirm compliance with this Policy.

In order to increase transparency and confidence in the Group's disclosure practices, all information given to analysts at a briefing, such as presentation slides, is to be given to the Company Secretary for immediate release to the ASX and posting on the Group's website. The information must always be released to the ASX first.

Ideally, all dealings with analysts should be carefully monitored by the Group to ensure that material non-public information was not inadvertently disclosed, and if it was, to immediately disclose that information to the ASX. Monitoring can occur by audio recording of the dealing, taking detailed notes of the conversations or having a person in the room where the sole role is to observe proceedings and look for any material non-public disclosures.

9. Authorised Group Spokesperson

The Group CEO will determine which persons are authorised to speak on behalf of the Group. All enquiries by the media, regulators or analysts should be passed on to either the Group CEO, the Chief Financial Officer or Company Secretary or all of them.

10. Market speculation and rumours

In general, the Group does not respond to market speculation and rumours except where:

- (a) the speculation or rumours mean that the subject matter is no longer confidential and therefore the exception to disclosure set out in ASX Listing Rule 3.1A.2 no longer applies;
- (b) the ASX formally requests disclosure by the Group on the matter; or
- (c) the Board considers that it is appropriate to make a disclosure in the circumstances.

Only authorised Group spokespersons may make any statement on behalf of the Group in relation to market rumours or speculation. If employees or officers become aware of any market speculation or rumours which the Company Secretary may not be aware of, these should be reported to the Company Secretary.

Where the Group is relying on an exception to its continuous disclosure obligations, the Company Secretary should monitor the following:

- (a) the entity's market price;
- (b) major national and local newspapers;
- (c) any investor or industry blogs or social media that the Group is aware of that regularly post comments about the Group or the industry; and
- (d) enquiries from analysts or journalists,

for signs that the relevant confidential information may have leaked and, if it detects any such signs, to notify the Board and initiate discussions with the ASX as soon as practicable.

11. Communication of Information to the ASX

The Company Secretary is responsible for all communications with the ASX and will coordinate all price sensitive disclosures to the market. The Group must not release information publicly that is required to be disclosed to the ASX until it has received formal confirmation of its release to the market by the ASX.

12. Trading Halts

In order to facilitate an orderly, fair and informed market it may be necessary to request a trading halt from the ASX. The Group CEO, the Chief Financial Officer and the Company Secretary (after consultation with the Board where practicable to do so) will make all decisions relating to a trading halt.

13. Review of Policy

This Policy will be reviewed regularly by the Board and the Company Secretary having regard to the changing circumstances of the Group and any changes to the programme will be notified to affected persons in writing. If any employee or officer has any comments or views concerning the operation or effectiveness of this Policy, they should also be communicated to the Company Secretary.

14. Questions

If employees or officers have any questions about the operation of this Policy, please contact the Company Secretary.

15. Potential Consequences of Breach

There are a number of potential consequences of breaching this Policy. If employees or officers have questions about the potential consequences of breaching this Policy, they should contact the Company Secretary.

16. Access to the Policy

This Policy will be available for viewing on the Group's website.

17. Disclosure of the Policy

A summary of this Policy is disclosed in the Group's corporate governance policy summary.

Continuous Disclosure Policy

Materiality Guidelines

1. Disclosure Obligation

Under the Corporation Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) and the Listing Rules of the ASX Limited (ASX), the Group is generally required to notify the ASX of information which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of securities of the Group.

The Corporations Act defines such information to include information which would, or would be likely to, influence persons who commonly invest in securities in deciding whether or not to subscribe for, buy or sell, securities of the Group.

The ASX suggests asking two questions to when faced with a decision on whether information needs to be disclosed:

- would this information influence my decision to buy or sell securities in an entity at their current market price?
- would I feel exposed to an action for insider trading if I were to buy or sell securities in the entity at their current market price, knowing this information had not been disclosed to the market?

2. Materiality

2.1 Overview

To ensure that the Group complies with its disclosure obligations, the Board has adopted a Continuous Disclosure Policy. To assist in determining whether information regarding the Group is, or may be, material, the Board has adopted the following materiality guidelines. Whether a matter is material must be considered from both a quantitative and qualitative viewpoint. Some guidance is also given to assist in identifying the material contracts.

2.2 Quantitative materiality

Matters are likely to be considered material from a quantitative viewpoint if they exceed the following thresholds:

- (a) balance sheet items will be considered material if they have a value of about 5% of the Group's total assets. For instance, an acquisition or an item of capital expenditure having a value in excess of that amount may be material; and
- (b) profit and loss items will be considered material if they will have an impact on current year earnings of about 5% of the Group's EBIT. For instance, a claim made against the Group for at least that amount could be considered material.

2.3 Qualitative materiality

Matters are likely to be considered material from a qualitative viewpoint if:

- (a) they could adversely affect the reputation of the Group (e.g. retail marketing campaigns);
- (b) they involve a breach of legislation which carries a substantial monetary penalty or imprisonment;
- (c) they relate to the Group's involvement in a new and potentially important market;
- (d) it involves new developments which may have a material impact on the Group's business in the future;
- (e) they are outside the ordinary course of business; or
- (f) if accumulated, they would satisfy the quantitative test.

3. Material contracts

Contracts will be considered material if:

- (a) they are outside the ordinary course of business;
- (b) they cannot be terminated without penalty on less than 12 months' notice;
- (c) they contain exceptionally onerous provisions and relate to annual income in excess of 5% of total income;
- (d) there is a likelihood that either party will default and the default will have a negative impact of more than 5% of earnings;
- (e) they are essential to the activities of the Group and cannot be replaced or cannot be replaced without an increase in cost of more than 5% of assets;
or
- (f) they satisfy the quantitative test.

4. Reporting of material information

Any information which could be considered material having regard to the above thresholds and details of material contracts should be immediately reported to the Company Secretary. If there is any doubt as to whether a matter is material, the matters should nevertheless be brought to the attention of the Company Secretary.

5. Review of guidelines

These materiality guidelines will be reviewed regularly by the Board and the Board having regard to the changing circumstances of the Group.

6. Questions

If you have any questions about the application of these materiality guidelines, please contact the Company Secretary.

(i) one or more of the following situations apply:

(B) the information is contained in internal reports and documentation, such as monthly management reports, which are confidential and not generally disclosed to the market.

(iii) a reasonable person would not expect the information to be disclosed.

For instance, if the disclosure of the information would be materially prejudicial to the Group (e.g. if it came into the hands of competitors).

3. Maintaining confidentiality

If certain material information is confidential, then it is important that all necessary steps be taken to ensure that the information remains confidential and it is not disclosed to third parties.
